3. How can I register for the ACF?

You can become a member of the ACF by registering at: <http://www.cricket.com.au/acf>

Membership of the ACF is free and it's easy to join.

Please note that if you join after 5:00pm AEST on April 23 2017, or you reside overseas, you will not be eligible for the Priority Ticket Offer.

4. How can I find out my ACF Member number?

There are several ways you can check and retrieve your ACF Membership details:

- a) You can call the ACF Hotline on 1300 720 742 between 9am and 5pm AEDT/AEST – You will need to verify your account details (email address, name and address) before we can give you the information you require.
- b) You can email acf@cricket.com.au with your request. You must include your name, email and any other identifying information relevant to your ACF membership – this may be the slowest method of retrieving your details as we are experiencing a high email traffic period, but we will respond individually to your email as soon as we can.
- c) Please also refer to any of the ACF emails you receive which relate to the ACF priority ticketing period – your ACF membership number will be displayed on these emails.

5. What membership details do I need to provide to buy tickets during the ACF Priority Offer?

When you enter and progress through the Ticketmaster and/or Ticketek systems, you will be prompted to enter your ACF Member Number. You will not be able to purchase tickets without providing your own unique ACF Member Number.

You must also be an eligible ACF Member who has joined the ACF prior to 5:00pm AEST Sunday 23 April 2017 and who currently resides in Australia. This cut-off date is in place to ensure that the ticketing agencies have adequate time to load and test the valid ACF membership numbers to their system.

Please note that any new members joining, or current members updating their address to an Australian residential street address, after this date will not be eligible for the ACF Priority Ticket Access Period, and their ACF Member number will not work during the ACF Priority Ticket Access Period. This deadline will be strictly adhered to and it is not possible for Cricket Australia to provide ACF membership numbers to the ticketing agencies after this date.

6. Who is eligible to buy tickets during the ACF Priority Ticket Access Period?

All eligible ACF members who have a valid email address and reside in Australia with an Australian residential address who are subscribed to the ACF as at 5:00pm AEST Sunday 23 April 2017 will be eligible to buy tickets, including ACF members who were also eligible to participate in the ACF Gold Priority Ticket Access Period. Tickets are subject to availability.

Any ACF members who subscribe after this time, or any non-Australian based ACF members, will not be eligible to buy tickets during the ACF Priority Ticket Access Period, and will have to wait to purchase when the tickets go on sale to the general public from Monday 8 May 2017.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION REGARDING THE GOLD PRIORITY ACCESS OFFER

7. What is the ACF Gold Priority Ticket Access Period and how do I become an ACF Gold Member?

The ACF Gold Priority Ticket Access Period is the access period for ACF members who have purchased tickets during the ACF Priority Ticket Access Period in any two out of the last three years of International cricket (that is, in any two of the 2016/17, 2015/16 and 2014/15 International Cricket seasons) played in Australia (the Relevant Priority Periods), excluding matches during the ICC Cricket World Cup 2015 tournament, using the same ACF membership number and email address for the purchases. Such ACF members qualify for access to purchase tickets on 1 May 2017, which is two days earlier than those ACF members who do not qualify for the ACF Gold Priority Ticket Access Period. ACF members who are eligible to participate in the ACF Gold Priority Ticket Access Period will be contacted directly to be advised of their eligibility.

Please note that ticket purchases made outside of the Relevant Priority Periods do not qualify towards eligibility for the ACF Gold Priority Ticket Access Period. Eligibility is determined by the ACF membership numbers and details provided to the ticketing agencies when ACF members made their ticket bookings (if any) during the Relevant Priority Periods. It is the responsibility of each ACF member to ensure that their ACF membership number is recorded correctly when purchasing tickets during the ACF Priority Access Period.

Cricket Australia reserves the right to alter the eligibility conditions for the ACF Gold Priority Ticket Access Period access at any time.

8. I have been invited to receive the ACF Gold Priority Ticket Access Period. When can I buy my tickets?

ACF members eligible for the ACF Gold Priority Ticket Access Period will be able to purchase tickets from Monday 1 May 2017 as set out in the table below.

Tickets for all matches excluding matches in Perth, are being released on the same day and commences at different times in each state. Please refer to the local on sale time in the State where the match is being held, not by which State you live in. Please check the opening times carefully.

Any ACF members eligible to access the ACF Gold Priority Ticket Access Period who do not purchase their tickets on either the 1st or 2nd of May, can still purchase tickets during the ACF Priority Ticket Access Period which runs until 11.59pm Sunday 7 May 2016 (venue local time).

9. I have not received an invitation to receive the ACF Gold Priority Ticket Access Period and I believe I am eligible. What should I do?

Please note that answers to queries regarding eligibility for the ACF Gold Priority Ticket Access Period may not be considered if received after 5.00pm AEST Thursday 20 April 2017.

As noted in question 8 above, to be eligible for the ACF Gold Priority Ticket Access Period, ACF Members must have purchased tickets quoting the same ACF membership number in any two of the three Relevant Priority Periods. The following types of purchases will not contribute towards ACF Gold Priority Ticket Access Period eligibility:

- (a) if the ACF Member made ticket purchases in Relevant Priority Period using different ACF membership numbers;
- (b) if the ACF Member made ticket purchases outside the Relevant Priority Periods; or
- (c) If the ACF Member made ticket purchases for the ICC Cricket World Cup 2015.

Further, if an ACF Member has unsubscribed as an ACF member at any time since 1 June 2014 that ACF Member shall not be eligible for the ACF Gold Priority Ticket Access Period.

If you believe you are eligible for the ACF Gold Priority Ticket Access Period and have not received an invitation, please email your details (name, ACF membership number, email address and contact number) to acf@cricket.com.au with the proof of the ticket purchases you have made in the Relevant Priority Periods and we will be in contact with you to determine your eligibility.

BUYING AND ACCESSING TICKETS DURING THE ACF AND ACF GOLD PRIORITY ACCESS PERIODS

10. Where can I buy tickets during the ACF Gold Priority Ticket Access Period and the ACF Priority Ticket Access Period?

It is important to be aware that during the ACF Gold Priority Ticket Access Period and the ACF Priority Ticket Access Period tickets can only be purchased:

- (a) from the relevant official ticket agency, Ticketek or Ticketmaster, depending on the match tickets you are seeking to purchase (see further information below); and
- (b) online, or over the phone – there are no ticket agency outlet sales during this time.

Tickets will be available from the following ticket agencies.

State	Ticket Agent	Website	Phone
NSW, ACT, SA, TAS & VIC	Ticketek	www.ticketek.com.au	1300 292 201
QLD	Ticketmaster	www.ticketmaster.com.au	1300 136 122

WA – TBC

Cricket Australia wants to remind fans around the country that the only way to ensure they receive legitimate tickets and at the official sale price is to purchase via our authorised ticketing agencies, Ticketek and Ticketmaster (excluding Ticketmaster Resale).

Fans who purchase tickets from unauthorised resellers risk paying too much and having their tickets to matches cancelled, which is why it is highly recommended to only purchase from Cricket Australia's authorised ticket agencies.

Don't be fooled by bogus websites and organisations claiming to sell tickets to the 2017/18 International Cricket season. Tickets that are purchased from unauthorised third parties will be cancelled and the ticket holder seeking to use the ticket may be refused admission to, or evicted from the Venue without refund or compensation of any kind in accordance with the 2017/18 Cricket Australia Conditions of Ticket Purchase, Entry to a Venue and Attendance at a Match.

11. Does being an ACF member guarantee that I can access tickets?

Of the total allocation of tickets available for purchase by fans for any International match, a significant proportion are held aside for the ACF Priority Access Period. There are some tickets held aside in order for Cricket Australia to meet its contractual, protocol and operational obligations, including to corporate partners, players, hospitality, media and dignitaries and for the general public sale period (including any tickets not sold during the ACF priority access periods). Being an ACF member cannot guarantee that you will be able to purchase tickets as there may be a large demand from ACF members which exceeds the number of tickets available in the ACF member allocation. However, being an ACF member gives you a better chance of securing tickets as it provides you with priority access to buy your tickets from the ACF allocation and before the general public tickets go on sale.

Please also refer to Question 7 for eligibility criteria.

12. I tried to book tickets during the ACF Priority Ticket Access Period in previous years and missed out on the tickets I wanted. Am I likely to miss out again this year?

The demand for tickets is higher in an Ashes year, so there are not always enough tickets to meet the demands of ACF members during a priority access period.

In some of the smaller venues, the demand for ticketing outweighs the seats available, so the allocation for ACF members may become exhausted.

13. Why are there sometimes more tickets released for sale after a match may be sold out?

Due to a range of operational matters, there may be some tickets held in reserve seating that subsequently become available for purchase by the general public closer to the start of a match. For example, our broadcast partners need space to ensure they can operate TV cameras during a match, and until Cricket Australia is advised of the pitch location, certain seats are held to ensure that Cricket Australia's broadcast partners have sufficient space in which to conduct their activities. Another example is Official Hospitality. Official Hospitality packages usually include a seat. If Official Hospitality tickets don't sell out, then these seats may be released at a later date. Overall, in most venues, the number of seats released back after the ACF priority periods have been conducted is usually less than 5% of the public capacity.

14. What is the best way to book – online or over the phone?

In Cricket Australia's experience, there is greater capacity for a large number of people to book over the internet at the one time as compared to booking via phone, so during peak booking periods you are more likely to be able to complete your transaction faster if you book online.

15. I want to sit in a particular seat or area – should I book over the phone or online?

If you have a specific seating request, you can make a request over the phone, however due to high demand, wait times may be long and you could potentially miss out on tickets. Please note that the online booking facilities, including the interactive seating maps, do not allow for specific seating requests during periods of high demand.

16. What are the dates of the International Matches in 2017-18?

17. How can I buy tickets?

You will need your ACF Member number though, so ensure you have this with you. Please also be mindful of the times that tickets go on sale, as these times are Australian times.

However, please note that under no circumstances shall Cricket Australia be responsible for any access issues you may have with the ticket agencies, either online or over the phone whilst you are overseas.

24. I want to buy tickets for my cricket club. How do I buy tickets for a big group?

27. How will I be able to pay for my tickets during the ACF Gold Priority Ticket Access Period and ACF Priority Ticket Access Period?

Please note: ACF members will not be able to purchase tickets during the priority period at local ticket agency outlets during the Priority Access Period(s).

28. When I go to buy tickets during the ACF Gold Priority Ticket Access Period or the ACF Priority Ticket Access Period, how are the ticket agencies going to know I am registered?

Ticketing agencies will be securely provided with all eligible ACF Membership Numbers. ACF Members who registered after 5:00pm AEST on Sunday 23 April 2017 or ACF members who do not have an Australian residential address listed in their ACF account, are not eligible to purchase during the ACF and ACF Gold Priority Ticket Access Periods. They will only be eligible to purchase when the general public tickets go on sale from Monday 8 May 2017.

31. Can I resell my ticket if I can't go?

You may resell your tickets at the same price you bought them for, however the resale of tickets at a premium is a breach of the 2017-18 International Ticket and Entry Conditions, available at www.cricket.com.au/tickets. If you breach these Ticket and Entry Conditions, consequences could include:

- cancellation of all affected tickets without notice; and/or
- being refused admission to, or evicted from the Venue, without refund of the ticket price or compensation of any kind.

In addition, the resale of Tickets in certain circumstances is governed by Ticket sales legislation in each state and may attract criminal penalties.
